

The Artistry of Life and Leadership:

Making Meaningful Connections with Emotional Intelligence

An Experiential Workshop with Kevin Asbjornson

In his unique style as a motivational speaker, Kevin uses music, the international language of emotion, to leverage your Emotional Intelligence (EQ), the international language of leadership. Using his original piano music as a platform, Kevin taps your EQ, or emotional intelligence, and awakens your artistic competencies, revealing with striking clarity your capacity for self-awareness, creative expression and empathy. Through journaling, reflection and facilitated discussion, Kevin's keynote presentation ignites your powers of focus, interpretation, visioning and listening and unlocks your creative potential, allowing you to inspire creative leadership that results in greater organizational productivity, collaboration and enhanced business performance. As a keynote speaker and leadership trainer, Kevin brings the Artistry of Leadership a rare and elusive skill: the capacity to lead by inspiration, which sparks imagination that triggers innovation.

Kevin will be presenting this keynote to student leaders of Regis College as part of the "Ripple and a Wave: Student Leadership Development Experience"
